

I support our first amendment rights.Nothing distinguishes us better in this country than our freedom of expression.

While I find programming such as Oprah, Ricki Lake, Sally Jessie, etc offensive by exploiting other peoples misery for their personal gain - I have the right to change the channel. Just as the people who care to view the show have the right to watch it. If the ratings are high enough to keep it on the air - then that's what the public wants. I have to take responsibility to monitor on what goes on in my home... instead of passing the buck. It's called being a responsible parent... not a lazy one.

Satellite Radio has informed me that Big Government wants to monitor what I listen to. I denounce this type of monitoring. We are in the United States of America - not Red China.
